Dear Sir,

Noted.

As i mentioned without more time it is not becoming possible for me to report to Chennai, so in this way it is not seeming good to bother you all my senior & colleagues, i would like to resign from the company.

Please consider this as my formal resignation from the company.

Please let me know further steps . . . !,

If any notice period i have to serve, etc. as all details are already being shared

When I can handover company sim & laptop to office, anything else required from my side, please let me know.

Thanks and Regards . . .

Dear Anubhav

Due to the company's operational requirements you have been transferred and we required your presence at chennai.

We have already given sufficient time to report at chennai at this juncture it is not possible to extend the time.

Dear Sir,

The client details are already being shared with Ankur ji & already got him met with max. of our old & new clients.

As i am trying to move to Chennai, but there are personal hindrances are coming my way, if i would avoid such personal things for now they will arise again after some time & then to leave work in between & running after personal things will be difficult for me & for company also to bear again.

So due to personal circumstances and reasons i need to have some more time if provided by the company as i will have to go to my home town & make arrangements for my family stay it may take 10-12 days, else and not to bother you all my seniors and colleagues i must need to leave the company.

Please let me know further steps . . . !

I can handover company sim & laptop today to office.
